Message from the Office of Parent Relations

Congratulations on the admission of your son or daughter to the University of Massachusetts Medical School (UMMS) and welcome to the UMass Medical School community. UMass Medical School recognizes the vital role you and your family play in this phase of your child’s education. The UMass Medical School Office of Parent Relations is a vital resource to provide support to the students as well as educate and nurture the relationship between you and UMMS.

We are dedicated to keeping you up-to-date on School news and offering educational programs and events that allow you a better understanding of what your son or daughter is learning and experiencing here at UMMS.

Our parents stay attuned to what is happening on campus through the monthly e-newsletter which includes news and event listings. Also, please visit our web page frequently, www.umassmed.edu/development/parents.aspx, for additional information.

We are confident that you will find UMMS to be a remarkable institution and that your affiliation with this campus will be a positive and rewarding experience. UMass Medical School is a leader in so many ways. As parents, you will be amazed at what and how your son or daughter learns and thankful, as we are, that he or she is a student here.

The Office of Parent Relations is here to serve as a resource. If you have any questions please call our office at 508-856-8300 or email us at parents@umassmed.edu.

Welcome to the UMass Medical School Community!
