FCE DESCRIPTION

Students will accompany Dr. Waite in every aspect of his duties, including: senior administration meetings, management team meetings, all medical staff department and committee meetings, program task force sessions, board-level strategic planning initiatives, and infection control oversight activities. Students will also participate in inpatient infectious disease consultations as they are requested (approximately one per day). There will be ample time between activities to discuss what's happening and to describe the knowledge, skills and thought processes required for the decisions that are being made.

FCE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- understand the management and leadership opportunities which are often presented to physicians during their careers
- describe the important role of the physician-leader in senior management of a hospital
- learn about the complex decision processes in hospital management that are presented to the chief medical officer
- experience the challenges and rewards of balancing clinical and administrative responsibilities
